

Healthy Recipes

This is a knapsack problem, which can be solved using dynamic programming. However, there is one small trick in this problem: The number of meals can be exponential, and thus in the dp function, you need to reset the dp value to K when it exceeds K. See author solution for more details.